EDUCATION

PhD in Linguistics, Harvard University, United States | 2020 – pres
› Focus on semantics and computational linguistics

MS in Computational Linguistics, Brandeis University, United States | 2018 – 2020
› GPA 4.0
› Focus on computational semantics, modal logic, annotation and NLP
› Master's Thesis 'The Falsity of the Consequent in Contrastive Conditionals'
   Supervisor: Prof. James Pustejovsky

Master of Mathematics, University of Oxford, United Kingdom | 2011 – 2015
› First class honors (master's year), 2.i (bachelor's years)
› Final average 77.25/100 [70 and above awards a first class degree]
› Focus on set theory, logic and topology
› Master's Thesis 'The Iterative Conception of Set Theory'
   Supervisor: Dr. Robin Knight

Wettingen Cantonal School, Switzerland | 2007 – 2011
› Final average 5.85/6 (highest in year)
› Focus on mathematics, physics, philosophy and Latin

AWARDS

Aravind K. Joshi Award

EXPERIENCE

Research Intern at Raytheon BBN Technologies, Cambridge, United States   Summer 2019
› Researched neural network architectures for parsing temporal relations
› Implemented and improved a neural model based on 2018/2019 papers
› Achieved 8 point F1 improvement over state of the art (submitted for publication)

Software Developer at Ghyston, Bristol, United Kingdom   2015 – 2018
› Developed full-stack projects across industries and languages, including a 10x faster CSV-to-SQL processor, a visual template UI for financial XML, and a live bus tracker
› Managed a two-person project, handling proposal, implementation and final launch
› Trained client developers in new languages, providing templates and code reviews
› Mentored students from Bristol University writing a C#/Xamarin mobile app

Intern at TNG Technology Consulting, Munich, Germany   Summer 2012
› Developed a graphical interface in JavaScript for a custom formal grammar
› Reviewed code for other interns on the project

Intern at Ergon Informatik, Zurich, Switzerland   Summer 2011
› Developed a module in Java to compare GPS data sets
